

National Urban Alliance (NUA) & University of St. Thomas Summer Institute 2020

Communication – Collaboration – Creativity – Critical Thinking

Student Engagement with an Equity Lens

Why Attend

The National Urban Alliance and University of St. Thomas host three exciting days of collaborative professional learning for pre-K-12 educators and leaders. This annual event brings the fullness of NUA's power of belief virtual this year due to the pandemic. All keynotes and interactive presentations will be based on the principles and practices of The Pedagogy of Confidence within the equity-based CLEAR framework. The focus is on high intellectual performance for all students. Schools are encouraged to send your collaborative teams ready to engage with practical critical thinking tools creating a Pedagogy of Confidence for whole school community success, and a CLEAR view for equity.

Virtual

With the pandemic, National Urban Alliance continues its' annual collaboration with schools districts virtually. We will bring our organization's spirit of belonging and the power of belief expertise to the Institute via Zoom. While we will miss being together in person this year, we will bring the excitement virtually with our energizing presenters.
